About iv3 CUS

iv3 CUS is a technology driven property and casualty insurance inspection provider. Through the cloud-based redihive™ environment, the organization provides residential and commercial property inspection, risk analysis and insurance-to-value information gathered through partnerships with more than 18,000 North American field agents. The organization is headquartered in Toronto, Ontario. More information is available at www.iv3solutions.com.

Position Description

iv3 CUS is one of Canada's largest property risk inspection firms providing services to Underwriters, Risk Managers, Insurance Brokers and Property Managers. We have opportunities for experienced commercial risk / loss control specialists to support our business efforts in Western Canada (Vancouver, Edmonton, and Calgary), South-Western Ontario (London) and Atlantic Canada (Moncton, and Halifax). These positions involve conducting property and general liability physical risk inspections and loss control hazard analysis evaluation surveys on commercial properties and completing reports based upon the site visits.

Candidates should be able to operate from a home-based office, and be willing to conduct inspections in both urban areas and the surrounding regions. To be successful you require:

- Excellent English skills, both written and verbal
- Proven report writing skills
- Computer literacy and the willingness to learn new computer systems and technology
- An ability to deal effectively with people in sometimes stressful situations
- A reliable vehicle and willingness to travel

Successful candidates will have previous industry experience in combination with 2-3 years post-secondary technical education in a related field. Applicants with professional designations such as CRM, CRSP, CIP and CET are encouraged to apply.

This is a full/part time contractor position, dependent upon the region(s) serviced, with earnings based on a fee schedule.
